COLLEGE PLANNING GUIDE

FIND THE COLLEGE THAT'S RIGHT FOR YOU

COLLEGE SEARCH

- ☐ Decide which factors are most important to you (see list at right)
- ☐ Research schools
- ☐ Look for information on specific programs of interest to you, including majors, minors, and advising tracks
- ☐ Build a tentative list of colleges that meet your criteria
- ☐ Visit colleges on your list — virtually and in-person
- ☐ Narrow your search to the schools to which you plan to apply
- ☐ Think long term. What do you want to do after college? Find a school that offers undergraduate research, internships, study abroad, and other opportunities beyond the classroom that will prepare you to meet your graduate school or professional goals.
- ☐ College is more than just classes and studying; student life is also important! Explore the various clubs, organizations, athletic offerings, and leadership opportunities your potential schools provide.

COLLEGE SEARCH TIP #1: AFFORDABILITY

A college education is one of the most important investments you'll make. There are often scholarships, grants, and opportunities that make a place like CNU more affordable and manageable than you might expect. Start the conversation about pricing early and ask questions. We're here to help you navigate the process.

STANDARDIZED TESTING

- Check to see if the SAT, ACT, or other tests (e.g., CLT) are required for admission or if you can apply test-optional.
- Find out if the SAT or ACT is required for scholarship consideration.
- Many schools will super score, which means they will consider your highest combination of subscores on multiple SAT or ACT results. Christopher Newport super scores multiple SATs, not ACTs.
- Since most schools consider your highest equivalent score on the SAT or ACT, it is in your best interest to take each at least once.
- Verify if optional writing sections are required at the schools to which you are applying.
- Check available test dates and register at sat.collegeboard.org/register, actstudent.org/register and cltexam.com
- Take practice tests available in your high school guidance office and online.
- Investigate school and community-sponsored test preparation, online resources, and private testing centers.

COLLEGE PREP

- ☐ Select rigorous classes — Advanced Placement (AP), International Baccalaureate (IB), and dual-enrollment — that you can succeed in and that meet the expectations of your top college choices
- ☐ Take advantage of opportunities to engage in leadership and service activities
- ☐ Participate in summer programs that promote your academic and co-curricular interests
- ☐ Choose extracurricular activities that demonstrate a commitment to purpose

WHAT COLLEGES LOOK FOR:

The Christopher Newport University Perspective

You are more than your test scores and grades. That's why our holistic admission review considers your entire background, as together we determine if Christopher Newport is the "right fit" for you.

OVERALL ACADEMIC RECORD

We expect to see a cumulative record of academic success. Christopher Newport considers such factors as the rigor of your high school curriculum and observable trends in your performance.

- Cumulative GPA: We evaluate your class standing using your cumulative GPA. Class rank is considered only if provided by your high school.
- Curriculum rigor: We consider what classes you have chosen to take within the context of course offerings at your high school. To be competitive for admission, students must have taken a college preparatory curriculum, such as the advanced studies diploma offered in Virginia. A program is considered rigorous if it includes significant college-level coursework, such as AP, IB, or dual-enrollment.
- Grade trends: We expect you to work to your full potential. Are your grades consistent year to year? Did you have a rocky academic start in ninth grade but improve over time? Have your grades gotten better each year or seen a downward trend? If you have a glaring inconsistency in your grades, we encourage you to explain why in the additional information section on the Common Application. Remember: Based on the application schedule, your junior-year grades are of utmost importance.
- SAT or ACT or CLT: If you submit scores from different tests, we use the highest equivalent score when making an admission decision. If you have tested more than once, we consider your best ACT composite score or a super score of your highest SAT Evidence-Based Reading and Writing and Math subscores.

TEST-OPTIONAL

Students may choose to apply as test optional; strong standardized test scores may make you more competitive for admission and merit scholarships, but they are not required. We consider SAT, ACT, and CLT scores, if submitted, as part of our holistic review.

ADDITIONAL FACTORS

High school involvement can positively impact your application. Our students demonstrate leadership ability, a commitment to service, diverse talents, and extracurricular experiences. Through applicants' essays, recommendations, and interviews, we can recognize traits that help distinguish your admission application.

- Common App Essay: An essay or personal statement of approximately 650 words is required on the Common Application.
- CNU Essay (scholarships): Two additional short-answer essays are required for scholarship consideration for CNU'S President's Leadership and Honors Programs.
- Recommendations (strongly encouraged): Send us one to three recommendations, preferably from your school counselor and core-subject teachers.
- Personal interview (strongly encouraged): An interview is a great way to personalize your application and demonstrate your interest in Christopher Newport. Interviews are required for scholarship consideration.

INTERVIEWS

Interviews are available June through February to rising high school seniors applying as first-time freshmen. We offer both in-person and virtual interviews. Schedule your interview online at cnu.edu/interview.

COLLEGE SEARCH TIP #2: INTERVIEWS

An admission interview is one of the best ways for us to get to know you beyond your application and for you to get to know us. This is your opportunity to ask questions and see if CNU feels like the right fit. While interviews aren't required, they can strengthen your application and help you stand out.

Senior Associate Director of Admission

WRITING THE COLLEGE ESSAY

Admission officers read thousands of essays each year.
So how can you make yours stand out from the rest?

THE FOLLOWING TIPS SHOULD HELP MAKE THE PROCESS EASIER AND MORE REWARDING:

- Personalize your essay and be yourself, helping us get to know you as an individual
- Stay to the recommended length
- Use your own language — be genuine and true to your own voice, but grammar and sentence structure rules still apply
- If you choose to describe an obstacle you've encountered, explain how you overcame it and how it has made you who you are — don't just focus on the obstacle itself
- It's OK to show emotion; however, this is not your private journal
- Read your essay aloud, use spell check, proofread your writing, and have someone else review your essay — a second pair of eyes is always helpful
- Have fun writing your college essay — show your personality and don't be afraid to make us laugh!

AND REMEMBER NOT TO DO THE FOLLOWING:

- Don't tell us what we can read on your application — go beyond those facts to help us get to know you personally
- Don't plagiarize
- Don't focus your essay solely on someone else — we want to get to know you!
- Don't mistakenly name an unintended college or university in your essay

COLLEGE SEARCH TIP #3: ESSAYS

The most memorable essays are authentic, reflective, and truly your own. Don't focus on what you think we want to hear, share a story or perspective that shows how you think, what matters to you, and how you've grown. Your essay doesn't need to be dramatic to stand out; it just needs to be real. When your voice and personality come through, we can begin to see the kind of person you'll be in our community.

Yoma Miller
Senior Associate Director of Admission

CHOOSING AN APPLICATION PLAN

Early Decision

By applying Early Decision, you agree to enroll at a school if offered admission. While you may apply to other colleges, you agree to withdraw all other applications if admitted. If you feel a school is the right fit for you, applying Early Decision will give you the best chance for admission. Applying Early Decision demonstrates your passion for and commitment to a specific school, which most colleges take into account when reviewing your application. At Christopher Newport, for example, the competitive nature of our overall applicant pool means we must select among highly qualified students. We give every possible consideration to Early Decision applicants. Remember that Early Decision is binding and will require an earlier enrollment verification deposit for admitted students.

Early Action

Early Action is a nonbinding option and a great choice for students very interested in a school but still considering multiple colleges. By applying Early Action, a decision will be made long before the traditional spring notification date. At Christopher Newport, we will re-evaluate any deferred Early Action applicants during Regular Decision review. This gives you the opportunity to provide updated senior-year academic information to strengthen your application.

Regular Decision

Regular Decision is also nonbinding and provides the most time to submit your application; however, it has the latest notification date and is the most competitive.

COLLEGE SEARCH TIP #4: APPLYING

It's easier to be competitive for Early Decision and Early Action admission than Regular Decision. Your best chance for admission is Early Decision. However, if the awarding of an academic scholarship or the ability to compare financial aid plays a role in your college choice, we recommend applying through the nonbinding Early Action option.

SCHOLARSHIP CONSIDERATION

Christopher Newport's Early Decision applicants are the first students considered for our signature scholarship programs: the President's Leadership Program and Honors Program.

Priority consideration is given to applicants who complete the required essay and interview by December 15.

FINANCIAL AID AND THE FAFSA

When reviewing college financing decisions, gather as much information as possible to make the most informed choice you can. Do your homework and research all financial aid options, those available at specific institutions and from outside sources.

Be smart! Assess the value of the degree you will earn and the educational experience you imagine. Many students apply to multiple colleges and must compare financial aid packages. Published tuition and fees are only part of the story — investigate other costs along with available financial aid.

APPLYING FOR FINANCIAL AID

To apply, complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), available online at studentaid.gov. The FAFSA will gather income and other information about your household to determine an estimated family contribution (EFC). Your EFC will be used to determine your eligibility for federal and state aid. At Christopher Newport, we don't require any additional forms. Remember: The FAFSA is a free application, so be wary of any website or service requiring submission fees.

WHEN TO APPLY FOR FINANCIAL AID

State, federal, and university financial resources are limited. Each year, the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) opens in early fall and should be submitted as soon as possible. Christopher Newport sets a priority filing deadline each award year. Be sure to check the priority deadline on our website when submitting your application for admission. We recommend that you submit the FAFSA as soon as you are able to receive an early aid package. The FAFSA is based on prior-prior-year income, so your tax information should already be complete and available to report when the FAFSA opens. We strongly encourage all students to apply for financial aid, even after the priority deadline has passed, in addition to merit scholarships at the colleges you apply to.

COLLEGE SEARCH TIP #5: FINANCIAL PLANNING

Planning for college starts with understanding your options and creating a thoughtful financial plan. Be sure to ask your school counselor about scholarships from local and outside organizations and explore every opportunity available to you, including financial aid. With the right approach, a CNU education can be both meaningful and manageable for your family.
